

Rebates for New Zealand Productions

The New Zealand Screen Production Rebate for New Zealand Productions is the Government-backed incentive to support the creation of New Zealand screen stories. Official co-productions are considered New Zealand productions for the purposes of this rebate.

40% – This cash rebate is equivalent to 40% of Qualifying New Zealand Production Expenditure (QNZPE) provided the production registers before starting principal photography or applies for a Provisional Certificate and meets specific eligibility criteria including:

Short-form animation (single or series)	NZ$250,000 total & no less than $400,000 per hour

Points Test

The Significant New Zealand Content Test considers these elements:

- subject matter – setting, lead characters, creative material, culture/history;
- production activity – shooting location/studio, visual post/VFX and audio post;
- personnel – directors, producers, writers, lead actors and other key production roles; and
- business growth – ownership of intellectual property, business development outcomes.

Applications

Register before starting principal photography or apply for a Provisional Certificate here. A Provisional Certificate indicates that the production is likely to meet the eligibility criteria and is not a guarantee that the production will receive Final (or Interim) certification.
